

Grazing Workshop

Using Native Warm Season Grasses in a Grazing System

August 31, 2021 ~ 5:30 PM—8:00 PM

J&N Rice Farms - Blanchester, Ohio

1212 2nd Creek Rd, Blanchester, Ohio 45107

Participants will learn best management practices for establishing and grazing native grasses. And learn how native grasses can be implemented into a grazing system to maintain grass vigor and animal performance through the summer months.

This workshop is being hosted by: The Clinton SWCD and Adams County SWCD

Featured Speakers:

Bob Hendershot, ODA - Retired NRCS Grasslands Coordinator -- Nick Schell, NRCS - State Biologist --

Bill Wickerham, Adams SWCD - District Administrator -- Jason Jones, Quail Forever - Grasslands & Grazing Coordinator

Details:

No Fee but pre-registration is required

*Dinner will be provided to pre-registrants

For Registration and Questions, Contact:

Clinton SWCD at (937) 382-2461 ext. 3

RSVP by: Friday, August 20

Event will be outside, and adhere to CDC guidance, hand sanitizer will be available

TOPICS TO BE COVERED:

- Workshop includes a pasture walk to view two newly seeded native warm season grass pastures
- Benefits to establishing native warm season grasses in your grazing system
- Native warm season grass establishment techniques
- Animal performance and economics
- Rotational grazing equipment and strategies
- NRCS financial and technical assistance options

SPONSORS:

